UNITWIN / UNESCO Chairs Program

Launched in 1992, the UNITWIN/UNESCO Chairs Programme promotes international inter-university cooperation and networking to enhance institutional capacities through knowledge sharing and collaborative work.

The Programme supports the establishment of UNESCO Chairs and UNITWIN Networks in key priority areas related to UNESCO's fields of competence – i.e. in education, the natural and social sciences, culture and communication.

Through this network, higher education and research institutions all over the globe pool their resources, both human and material, to address pressing challenges and contribute to the development of their societies. In many instances, the Networks and Chairs serve as think tanks and as bridge builders between academia, civil society, local communities, research and policy-making. They have proven useful in informing policy decisions, establishing new teaching initiatives, generating innovation through research and contributing to the enrichment of existing university programmes while promoting cultural diversity. In areas suffering from a dearth of expertise, Chairs and Networks have evolved into poles of excellence and innovation at the regional or sub-regional levels. They also contribute to strengthening North-South-South cooperation.

Today, the Programme involves over 700 institutions in 128 countries.

All documents related to the UNESCO Chairs and UNITWIN Network Programme (new applications, progress reports etc.) must be presented in one of the two working languages of the Programme, English or French."

UNESCO/Janusz Korczak Chair in Interdisciplinary Studies on Child Development and Well-being

All of the Chair's activities are aligned with UNESCO's priorities in relation to humanities and social sciences. We undertake actions, which respond to the challenges present in the modern world and the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs). Themes and topics of organized events include: sustainable development, cultural diversity, human rights (children's rights), interculturality and intercultural education, as well as modern psychological, pedagogical and sociological challenges.

The UNESCO Chair conducts the research programs, participates in conferences, seminars, debates, study visits and, since 2006, organizes the International Summer Schools.
